

Digital momentum. Do you have it?

Put a finger to your wrist and check your pulse. Breathe. It's time to start moving.

You're in sales (or in service, production, consulting); whatever your line, it's moving faster now. The more successful your business becomes, the harder it is to keep up with your IT system. You need access to clients in ten ways without delay. You need data from your desktop when you're away. You need to know how much you have and where it is. You need custom, scalable, flexible, portable, smart, reliable information technology.

This is digital momentum. And you need it.

Now breathe.

r² computing is already running your way. A full service computer consulting firm with ten years of experience, r² computing brings it: hardware, software, network design, data storage, backup, disaster planning and future-building. We speak Web, LAN, WAN and VPN. Whether your business is spread across several desks or several countries, we can connect it, expand it, make it smart and self-aware. We keep it running; you work on those profits.

r² computing builds your IT system from bottom up. We represent the first names in computer and networking equipment; we're part of a nationwide distribution network able to match your needs with the right machines. We know IBM. We know Mac. Our programmers will learn your business then knit that knowledge into database, intranet, email, web space, remote access and a few things you didn't know you needed.

Digital momentum. You can have it.

Get moving.
